

The ADHD Handbook: What every parent needs to know to get the best for their child

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) is now one of the most common childhood disorders right across the world, with a wealth of conflicting advice available everywhere you look. But most parents want only one thing: to find out what is going on with their child and how they can help them. The ADHD Handbook draws on the most up-to-date research from around the world to present a comprehensive look at ADHD, covering: how it is diagnosed common myths surrounding what causes it the brain anatomy implicated in the disorder the conditions that can commonly occur in conjunction with ADHD the pros and cons of various types of medication the most effective alternative therapies and psychotherapies, and the best parenting techniques. In addition, there are chapters looking at the experience of ADHD from the sufferers point of view, as well as the facts and myths surrounding ADHD in adults. This is the essential reference that every parent needs to help navigate their way successfully through the challenges posed by a child with ADHD. Stuart Passmore is a psychologist in private practice. He has developed an evidenced-based Parent Management Training program for parents of children with behavioural disorders ranging from ADHD to Oppositional Defiance Disorder to Conduct Disorder and children with explosive and non-compliant behaviours. Stuart also conducts professional development training workshops on Parent Management Training for behavioural and anxiety disorders.
